Cherry Cove Pinot Noir 2017

USA > Oregon > McMinnville

100% Pinot Noir

Cherry Cove is a fine Oregon Pinot Noir, approachable and friendly drinking, but rising to the intelligence of the wine consumer who wants to experience the originality and personality unique to each Oregon vintage. A balance of bold flavors depict its very name: Cherry Cove Pinot Noir delivers suggestive sweet hints of bright Bing cherries that dance with cedar and cinnamon in the nose. The soft yet expansive palate offers layers of black plum, blackberry, raspberry, and playful spice with subtle hints of toasted oak, balsam, and baker's chocolate to finish.

About us

Initially planted in 1991, Coleman Vineyard family estate winery is located in the McMinnville AVA Coast Range foothills of the Willamette Valley.

Terroir

Coleman Vineyard is located in the McMinnville foothills of Yamhill County in the Willamette Valley. The vineyard is close to the Van Duzer corridor, an opening through the Coast Range mountains to the Oregon coast, providing hot summer days with afternoon winds cooling the evening temperatures significantly. We believe this temperature variation, along with the volcanic soils, contribute to the phenolic characteristics and brightness of the wine, providing a structure for aging and signature dark cherry and spice flavors with intense color. Because of these unique influences, the coastal foothills of McMinnville has been approved for AVA status, and the area is known as the McMinnville AVA. The area is 40 million years old, formed from oceanic volcanic uprisings followed by deposits of lava from the Cascade Mountain volcanic eruptions known as 'basalt tufts'.

Recommendation

An ideal wine for a Thanksgiving Feast though equally enjoyable by the glass on a rainy day.
